Dear Colleagues,

To facilitate your access and understanding of our new and truly excellent website, we have recorded a little video for you. Our Information Officer Irwan, explains about his role and the structure of the FICSA website so that you can find your way around it easily. We are building up valuable resource pages and access is available through the public site for all open documentation. Some very recent additions to the website include a Podcast on covid-19 impact on International Administrative Law; the pop up with the latest information sent out by the FICSA Secretariat; new FICSA Training Fund guidelines, among many others which are worth looking into.

For any confidential information, we still have a member section. If you have forgotten your access code, please contact ficsa@un.org

We hope you enjoy this little introduction and we do appreciate any feedback that reaches us on the website, or any other communication for that matter.

Meanwhile, all the best to all of you.
